16. COMMENTARY ON PROSPECTS

According to Bank Negara Malaysia Economic and Financial Developments in Malaysia in the Second Quarter of 2025, The Malaysian economy expanded by 4.4% in the second quarter of 2025 (1Q 2025: 4.4%), driven by robust domestic demand. Household spending was higher amid positive labour market conditions and income-related policy measures, including the upward revision of minimum wage and civil servant salaries. Of significance, both private and public investments recorded stronger expansion, supported by the realisation of new and existing projects. In the external sector, export growth was slower due mainly to lower commodities-related exports. This was partially offset by continued electrical and electronics (E&E) exports and robust tourism activity. At the same time, import growth was higher, driven by strong demand for capital goods, reflecting higher investment activities. On the supply side, growth was driven by the services and manufacturing sectors. The services sector was supported by consumer-related and Government services. Steady growth in domestic-oriented clusters underpinned the performance in the manufacturing sector. Overall growth was weighed down by a contraction in the mining sector amid lower commodities production. On a quarter-on-quarter, seasonally-adjusted basis, growth expanded by 2.1% (1Q 2025: 0.7%).

Headline inflation moderated to 1.3%, while core inflation remained stable at 1.8% (1Q 2025: 1.5% and 1.8%, respectively). The moderation was largely due to lower prices for fuel such as RON97 petrol and diesel (-0.6%; 1Q 2025: 0.3%) and slower price increases for food-related items (2.2%; 1Q 2025: 2.5%), particularly fresh food and food away from home. This was partly offset by a slower price decline for mobile communication services, averaging at -12.1% (1Q 2025: -13.5%). Inflation pervasiveness, measured by the share of Consumer Price Index (CPI) items recording monthly price increases, experienced a slight decline amid softer global commodity prices (41.8%; 1Q 2025: 43.3%). Nonetheless, it remained broadly in line with the long-term average for the second quarter (2Q 2011-2019: 43.9%).

All these will impact the Group's business. The Group shall continue to implement relevant strategies which include securing recurring business from existing customers while gaining new business from both existing and new markets.
