ANNEXURE I

Reply to MSWG's questions raised in the letter dated 9 May 2023:

Operational & Financial Matters

1. The main contribution of the Maintenance and Software Solutions Services segment came from the maintenance services of Cash Recycling Machines (CRMs) as their warranty period expired. More than 600 units of CRMs entered the maintenance mode in FY2022. The Group is currently providing maintenance services for nearly 7,250 devices including CRMs, cheque deposit machines (CDMs) and desktop cheque scanners (page 23 of AR2022).

- a) OpenSys previously provided guidance that the annual maintenance fee for a CRM is 10% to 12% of the selling price, which typically ranged between RM60,000 to RM70,000. Has there been any change to selling price or annual maintenance fee structure for CRMs since then? What was the average annual maintenance fee per CRM in FY2022?

OpenSys' Response:

- Average Selling Price (ASP) of CRMs increase 30% in the market due to supply chain disruptions, inflationary pressure and weaker ringgit.
- On annual maintenance fee, we are in the process of negotiating with our customers to increase the fee structure.

- b) Out of the 7,250 devices that OpenSys is currently providing maintenance services for, how many devices consist of CRMs?

OpenSys' Response:

- Majority of the devices are CRMs.

- c) What is the estimated number of CRMs that will be out of warranty and will be entering maintenance mode in FY2023, FY2024 and FY2025, respectively?

OpenSys' Response:

- On average about 200 – 300 units per year.

- d) Of the RM39.7 million total revenue generated from the Maintenance and Software Solutions Services segment in FY2022 (page 19 of AR2022), how much of it was specifically generated from the maintenance of CRMs?

OpenSys' Response:

- Majority of the maintenance is for CRMs.

2. In the past few years, we have noticed that certain bank branches in the Klang Valley have replaced OpenSys' OKI CRMs with ATMs from a competitor. What could be the possible reasons for this? Is it possible that banks are adopting cost-saving measures? Do you expect this trend to continue, and what strategies is OpenSys employing to overcome any potential challenges in retaining its customers?

OpenSys' Response:

- We have not observed or seen this trend.
 - Could be isolated incidents where the bank in question may be relocating and optimizing their assets based on the transaction profile of the branch location.
 - For example, for a branch that is cash withdrawal centric, the bank may install more ATMs than the CRMs, and vice versa.
 - We still have 80% market share.
3. The Group is implementing Smart Teller Cash Recycler (SmartTCR) solutions for four banks as proof of concept (POC), with more POCs planned for FY2023. SmartTCR is expected to follow a similar successful path as the CRM. The market potential for SmartTCR is about 4,000 to 6,000 units for over 2,000 bank branches in Malaysia (page 27 of AR2022).
- a) Considering that banks might consider purchasing CRMs as a necessity due to the need for replacing their existing ATMs and CDMs, how crucial is a SmartTCR for banks compared to CRMs? Is a SmartTCR also considered a necessity or more of an optional investment for banks?

OpenSys' Response:

- SmartTCR solutions play a crucial role in the branch transformation journey for banks.
 - It increases efficiency and productivity of branch personnel.
 - It empowers branch personnel to concentrate on advisory activities and high-value transactions.
 - Branch banking for complex and high-value transactions versus Digital banking for simple banking transactions.
- b) What is the selling price of a SmartTCR and how does the maintenance fee structure and warranty period compare to that of your CRMs?

OpenSys' Response:

- SmartTCR selling price is about RM100K -RM120K per unit.
 - Maintenance fee 10% to 12% of selling price.
 - Warranty period is 1 year.
- c) What is the expected timeline for the implementation of SmartTCR solutions for the four banks that are currently in the POC stage? Have those banks expressed interest in mass adoption of SmartTCRs? If so, what is the number of orders expected in FY2023 and the foreseeable future?

OpenSys' Response:

- We expect implementation to start in 4Q2023.
- Disclosure of forward-looking numbers is subject to Bursa Malaysia Listing Requirements.

- Updates via official communications such as Bursa Link, quarterly reports, annual reports and investor presentations.
4. The Group will be working with partners to expand SmartCIT solutions and services in the cash management segment for corporations and financial institutions (page 26 of AR2022).
- a) Has Opensys conducted any POC trials with its existing financial institution customers for SmartCIT solutions?
 - b) What potential challenges and reasons might be preventing financial institutions from adopting SmartCIT solutions as a replacement for their current traditional cash-in-transit solutions, and what steps is Opensys taking to address these concerns?

OpenSys' Response:

- Some banks want us to provide a total solution to solve their cash management problems.
 - SmartCIT delivers a complete solution (not just collection of cash) with a one-stop total outsourcing approach.
- c) Assuming that Opensys is able to capture a 20% market share of the cash-in-transit market for financial institutions, what is the potential revenue and earnings that Opensys could generate from its SmartCIT solutions? Could you provide information on the key assumptions and methodology used to arrive at this estimate?

OpenSys' Response:

- Market size is about RM800 million.
 - Disclosure of targets, potential revenue and earnings subject to Corporate Disclosure Policy under Main Market Listing Requirements.
- d) Please provide information on the partners that Opensys is currently working with to expand SmartCIT solutions and services. What is the profit-sharing arrangement between Opensys and its partners in this venture?

OpenSys' Response:

- We are currently working with 2 licensed security companies.
- Depending on customer needs, we are open to work with other CIT companies.
- Details of commercial terms are subject to non-disclosure agreements.

Corporate Governance Matters

1. Practice 8.1 of the Malaysian Code on Corporate Governance stipulates a detailed disclosure on a named basis of the remuneration of individual directors, including breakdowns of fees, salary, bonus, benefits in-kind, and other emoluments.

This disclosure enables shareholders to make informed decisions when voting on the approval of directors' remuneration and to consider the appropriate remuneration package based on the directors' responsibilities.

However, Opensys departed from Practice 8.1 by not providing detailed remuneration disclosure on a named basis.

As per the Bursa Malaysia Listing Requirements, all listed companies must disclose annually the remuneration of all directors (including the remuneration for services rendered to the listed company as a group) for the financial year on a named basis, stating the amount received or to be received from the listed company and on a group basis, respectively. The disclosure must include the amount in each component of the remuneration (e.g. directors' fees, salaries, percentages, bonuses, commission, compensation for loss of office, and benefits in kind based on an estimated money value) for each director.

Please take note that this is a rule-based listing requirement for all listed companies.

OpenSys' Response:

- We take note of Practice 8.1 of MCCG.
- Due to confidentiality, personal data protection and security reasons, the Board believes that the disclosure of individual director remuneration in bands of RM50,000 (page 34 of AR2022) is sufficient.
- Directors' remuneration is reviewed by the Remuneration Committee on an annual basis to ensure that rewards commensurate with their experience and individual performance.

ANNEXURE II

The questions/inputs forwarded by shareholders/proxies namely, Mr. Aw Kum Wah, Mr. Mah Ah Wat, Mr. Tang Kin Wah, Mr. Chee Sai Mun and Mr. Clint Loh Chi Lun, duly addressed and attended by the Directors and Senior Management were summarised as follows:-

Q1) Despite the huge growth in the Group's revenue from RM61.5 million in financial year ("FY") 2021 to RM82.3 million in FY2022, the Group's gross profit increased slightly by RM2.0 million from RM29.0 million in FY2021 to RM31.4 million in FY2022. Please advise the reason for the lower gross profit margin.

A1) The decline in hardware sales in FY2021 was mainly due to the prolonged Covid-19 pandemic. However, FY2022 was a recovery year, the banks have resumed procurement activities after the reopening of the economy and borders, and hence the Group recorded robust CRM hardware sales growth which typically has a lower gross profit margin. Additionally, the lower gross margin was further impacted by the higher costs of goods and spare parts due to supply chain constraints as well as the weakening of the Ringgit.

Q2) Please advise the reason for the increase in administration expenses.

A2) The administration expenses were increased from RM7.2 million in FY2021 to RM8.3 million in FY2022. It consisted of one-off transfer listing fees of approximately RM0.6 million as well as the upkeep expenses for network infrastructure upgrades for computer equipment.

Q3) What are the cost benefits or advantages of OpenSys listed on the Main Market?

A3) The listing on Main Market would bring benefits to OpenSys as follows:-

- (a) The Main Market transfer increases OpenSys' credibility, image and reputation, as well as provide it with greater recognition and support from customers, suppliers and potential investors, particularly larger institutional investors.
- (b) Main Market is a better platform for the Group's future fundraising and expansion of business growth.

Q4) The Group's revenue declined since FY2020 based on the 5-Year Financial Highlights as stated on page 16 of the Annual Report 2022, but the improved revenue in FY2022 was not as higher as the pre-pandemic. Please advise:-

- (a) The reason for the decelerating of the Group's revenue over the years.
- (b) The new market to be penetrated by the Group in the near future, if any.
- (c) The Group's prospect.

A4) The revenue decline was due to the impact of the Covid-19 pandemic. All the procurement and installation activities were prohibited due to the lockdown and movement restrictions especially in 2020 and 2021. Nevertheless, our hardware sales had started to approach the pre-pandemic level in FY2022 with almost a V-shape recovery and we are optimistic about FY2023 and beyond.

Q5) Cash Recycling Machine (CRM)

- (a) Why Standard Chartered Bank Malaysia Berhad ("SCB") and United Overseas Bank Malaysia Berhad ("UOB") did not purchase CRMs from OpenSys?

- (b) What are the current market shares of OpenSys's CRMs? What are the competitive advantages of OpenSys's CRMs over its competitors in the market?
- (c) The implementation of mobile banking applications by banks could reduce the usage of ATMs and CRMs at bank branches. Does OpenSys foresee that banking customers will continue to install more CRMs at their branches in terms of maintenance cost?

A5) SCB and UOB have installed our cheque deposit machines but not CRM at their branches.

We have more than 80% market shares in CRMs. Our competitive advantages are having superior cash recycling technology, strong software integration skills and comprehensive after-sale support.

Based on BNM statistics, the usage of cash remained strong and Cash-In-Circulation had increased in 2022. Hence, CRMs will continue to be the main distribution channel of this payment instrument. We are positive that the CRM business segment will continue to perform well moving forward.

Q6) Smart Cash-In-Transit (SmartCIT)

- (a) What was the revenue contributed in FY2022?
- (b) Please share the Group's future outlook in terms of challenges.

A6) The SmartCIT segment contributed positively to the Group's financials in FY2022 after full implementation of the project with the largest utility company in the country. The revenue generated was approximately RM3.5 million equivalent to 4% of the overall revenue in FY2022.

The cash logistics market in Malaysia remains competitive and high in demand. The Group will be working with partners to expand SmartCIT solutions and services in the cash management segment for corporations and financial institutions. Therefore, we are optimistic about our future outlook in SmartCIT.

Q7) buySolar online marketplace

- (a) Noted that buySolar was launched in February 2020, please advise the reason for the low cumulative gross merchandise value of RM5.1 million.
- (b) Please advise the estimated breakeven point. Is it worth it for OpenSys to allocate more and more resources? Is the cost spent within the budget? Will OpenSys consider reviewing the business model?

A7) From our point of view, the cumulative gross merchandise value of RM5.1 million is considered reasonable as compared with the other players in the renewable energy marketplace. buySolar is a platform business model where the market participants can benefit from the presence of others.

As a renewable energy marketplace, the Group anticipates that buySolar will continue to play a strategic role in helping companies to deliver on environmental, social, and governance (ESG) related goals and become more sustainable in their businesses due to the rising awareness of ESG.

We noted shareholders' concern about the gradual buySolar progress in terms of monetization. The Group will broaden buySolar's offerings to include products and solutions-based services in the growing environmental and sustainability segments.

Moreover, we acknowledged the shareholders' viewpoints as to how the buySolar progress could be expedited. We might consider to acquire a solar company in order to accelerate our current position.

Q8) Branch of the Future (BOTF)

(a) Who are the potential banking customers?

(b) Who bears the cost incurred in Proof-Of-Concept (POC) projects?

(c) Has OpenSys adopted a cost-benefit approach in terms of monetization?

A8) There are four banks that have adopted the Group's BOTF solutions, Smart Teller Cash Recycler (SmartTCR) and are at various stages of POC. Those banks are Alliance Bank Malaysia Berhad, Affin Berhad, Ambank Berhad and Malayan Banking Berhad. Hong Leong Bank Berhad is our existing customer of the BOTF solutions.

Both banking customers and OpenSys would share the costs incurred on POC projects subject to the mutual agreement.

The POC projects had begun to contribute to the Group's revenue in FY2022. We are confident that the POC projects will result in mass adoption by the banks.

Q9) What is the accounting treatment for the Research and Development ("R&D") expenses incurred?

A9) We charged out the R&D expenses such as staff costs of those involved in the R&D activities on continuous new software enhancement to the payment kiosks and CRMs in relation to the business segments of the Group. The R&D expenses for FY2022 was RM2.6 million.

Q10) Are the Group's business segments still relevant given the decline in cheque usage?

A10) Though the cheque usage is declining, our cheque processing solutions remain relevant as banks' corporate customers still use cheque as a payment instrument. With the decline, bank may be considering to outsource their cheque processing to OpenSys for cost efficiency, and therefore, our business processing outsourcing segment will be relevant.

Q11) Is OpenSys moving towards the cashless trend like China?

A11) The ecosystem of China is different from ours whereby China is an under-banked country. It is easier for China to leapfrog and adopt a cashless environment especially in using mobile payment.

Here in Malaysia, cash is not going away anytime soon based on the following facts:-

- ATMs withdrawal value up 4.9% in 2022
- ATMs transaction volume up 2.4% in 2022
- The cash-in-circulation grew 8% in 2022 to RM162.1 billion

- About 10,000 units of ATMs that are replaceable by CRMs.

We believe that cash and e-payment will continue to co-exist in the foreseeable future. Nevertheless, we have been mindful of the e-payment trend and we are looking at new business segments which could generate additional revenue for the Group moving forward.

Q12) Please advise the revenue contribution by segments of OpenSys.

A12) The following business segments contributed to our revenue in FY2022:-

- Hardware segment such as CRMs
 - Services Segment
 - (i) Maintenance & Software Solutions Services
 - (ii) Business Process Outsourcing
 - (iii) SmartCIT Secure Logistics
- 13) The Board of Directors appreciated the questions raised by the MSWG from the minority shareholders' perspective to know more about our challenges in relation to CRMs, BOTF and SmartCIT segments. However, OpenSys is an information technology company that is in an intensely competitive industry. Therefore, we are always cautious about the publication of data to the public to prevent revealing of our trade secrets that could be detrimental to our shareholders.
- 14) Shareholders commended the comprehensive concept of buySolar platform, particularly relevant in Malaysia.
- 15) The Board of Directors appreciated the suggestion from shareholders for OpenSys to explore the opportunity to work with the Minister of Transport Malaysia on the Road Transport Department (JPJ) system.
