APPENDIX 1 – Whistleblowing form

1. OBJECTIVE

- 1.1. Gadang Holdings Berhad and its group of companies (“the Company”) is committed to achieving and maintaining the highest standards of openness, ethics and accountability. Employees are expected to conduct themselves with integrity, impartiality and honesty.
- 1.2. In line with good corporate governance practices, the Company encourages its employees, other external stakeholders and members of the public (“Reporting Individual”) to report suspected and / or known misconduct, wrongdoing or inappropriate behaviour relating to corrupt practices, fraud and / or abuse involving the Company’s resources.
- 1.3. The objective of this policy and procedure is to provide a mechanism for the Reporting Individual to report concerns about any suspected and / or known misconduct, wrongdoing or inappropriate behaviour relating to corrupt practices, fraud and / or abuse for management action.

2. SCOPE

Whistleblowing matters may include but are not confined to the following:-

- Violation of the Code of Ethics & Conduct, which includes giving or receiving a bribe or other gratification, money laundering, anti-fair competition and insider trading;
- Breach of legal or regulatory requirements;
- Theft or embezzlement;
- Malpractice, impropriety or fraud relating to internal controls, accounting, auditing and financial matters;
- Endangerment to public or employee’s health and safety;
- Damage caused to the environment;
- Improper conduct or unethical behaviour likely to prejudice the good standing of the Company;
- Conflict of interest;
- Misappropriation of Company’s assets.
- Discrimination

3. CONFIDENTIALITY & PROTECTION

3.1 Anonymity

It is the Company's policy to allow the Reporting Individual to either identify themselves or if they prefer, to remain anonymous when reporting a concern ("the disclosure"). However, where the Reporting Individual chose to identify himself / herself, please note that the Reporting Individual's personal data shall be protected in accordance with the Personal Data Protection Act 2010.

3.2 Confidentiality

The Company will treat the disclosure and information provided as sensitive and will only reveal them to relevant parties on a "need to know" basis for the purposes of investigating the disclosure.

Where the Reporting Individual has chosen to reveal his / her identity when making such a disclosure, written permission from him / her will be obtained in the event that the identity is necessary to be revealed.

3.3 Protection against detrimental action

The Reporting Individual shall be protected against reprisal, retaliation, punishment and / or unfair treatment (including intimidation, harassment, discrimination, demotion and termination of employment) from his / her superior, head of department / division and other employees as a result of the disclosure.

In addition, the Company provides assurance that no disciplinary action can be taken against the Reporting Individual as long as he / she does not purposely or knowingly provide false information in the disclosure. Malicious and false allegations will be viewed seriously and treated as a gross misconduct (where the Reporting Individual is an employee of the Company) and if proven, may lead to dismissal. Making a false report may result in the Reporting Individual being held personally liable for damages by anyone who may have been affected by the false disclosure.

4. RAISING A CONCERN

4.1 Employees

4.1.1 First Step

Where the Reporting Individual is an employee, he / she is encouraged to discuss the matter first with line supervisors or department head. This is the fastest way to clear up misunderstandings and ensure good, open working environment in the Company.

4.1.2 Next Step

If notifying the line supervisor or department head is not possible or inappropriate for any reason, or not in the best interest of the Company, then contact can either be made to:

6. ACKNOWLEDGEMENT & RECOGNITION

The Company places great value upon creating an environment where employees would maintain the highest standard of ethics, honesty, openness and accountability. The Company recognises that it requires courage and personal quality such as righteousness, loyalty and impeccable integrity for an employee to step out and blow the whistle. These personal qualities and positive behaviours demonstrated by the whistleblowers are well acknowledged by the Company and will be taken into consideration, among others, for the employee's career opportunities and advancement.

For whistleblowers who are other external stakeholders or members of the public, the Company also records its sincere appreciation for taking the effort to raise the concern so that the management may take actions as appropriate and for improvements.
